Our President Speaks To Us

To the Students of Madison College:

I am grateful for the privilege given me by The Breeze to extend personal greetings to all Madison students.

As we enter upon the forty-third year in the life of Madison College, it seems appropriate that our students, both old and new, pause to reflect upon the privileged opportunity which is theirs to attend an institution of higher learning in pursuit of the advancement of knowledge. Young people are not so fortunate in many lands and the outlook is indeed dark for youth in some parts of the world. We should all appreciate the fact that, as American citizens, we are highly privileged. We should not only cherish and be grateful for the many freedoms which we enjoy under our democratic form of government but we should also consider it a sacred obligation to assume the duties and responsibilities which our way of life imposes upon all citizens.

I sincerely trust that during the coming year every student at Madison College will give thoughtful consideration to the opportunities which are provided here and that each of you, as you undertake your daily tasks, will put forth your best efforts into all your endeavors. At the same time, I hope that you will participate actively in student affairs and take due advantage of the pleasures and recreational activities which are such important phases of well balanced student life.

It is my sincere hope that during this session and in future years when many of you will continue your attendance at Madison our associations may be mutually pleasant and profitable. I regret that limitations of time will not permit me to have at least one personal conference during the year with every student on the Madison campus. However, whenever I can render service in connection with your personal or academic problems, I trust that you will feel free to call upon me. I also hope that each student will have no hesitancy about coming to my office at any time to discuss any appropriate matter. I should like for all students to feel that they have a ready entree to the President's Office and that a cordial reception awaits them there.

To freshmen and other new students, I wish to extend a cordial welcome to Madison. Mrs. Miller and I are looking forward to the pleasure of meeting you at the reception at our home, Hillcrest, on the evening of Friday, September 21st.

With best wishes to all Madison students for interesting, happy, and profitable experiences during the 1951-52 session, I am

Very sincerely yours,
G. Tyler Miller, President

The chief executive of Madison College as he performs his duties. President Miller begins his third term as our president.

Miller Fills Six Faculty Vacancies

Numbering among the new faces at Madison are nine new faculty members, announces G. Tyler Miller, President of Madison College. Six vacancies on the staff will not be filled during the coming year.

Two full professorships have been appointed. Dr. Charles G. Caldwell will serve as Professor of Education specializing in the field of Elementary Education. Dr. Caldwell received his B. S. from Roanoke College, his M. A. and Ph. D. from the University of Chicago. He has taught in the public schools of Culpepper and Waynesboro, Virginia. Dr. Caldwell was on the faculty of the University of Maryland, and has specialized in the study of Child Growth and Development.

Librarian

Professor Joseph W. Kraus has been appointed as librarian and professor of library science. Professor Kraus received his A.B. degree from Culver-Stocton College in Missouri, his B.S. and M.S. in Library Science from the University of Illinois, and will complete his doctorate degree in library science at the University of Illinois next summer. Mr. Kraus has served as head librarian at Westminster College, Fulton, Missouri, and as assistant librarian at Tulane University.

Assistant Prof's

Miss Sarah Anderson has been appointed as assistant professor and supervisor of student teaching in business education at Montevideo High School. Miss Anderson holds the B.S. and M.S. degrees from the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. She has been serving as Assistant Professor of Business Education at Radford College. Miss Anderson has had a number of years experience in high school teaching.

Miss Mary Beyrer, former Supervisor of Student Teaching in Physical Education at Harrisonburg High School, has been appointed Assistant Professor of Physical and Health Education to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Mrs. Althea Johnson. Miss Beyrer has the B.A. degree from Macalester College in Minnesota, and the M.S. degree from MacMurray College in Illinois.

Miss Mary Jane Blizzard has been appointed as assistant professor and supervisor of student teaching in home economics at Montevideo High School in Rockingham County. Miss Blizzard received her B.S. and M.S. degrees in home economics education from Pennsylvania State College.

Miss Grace Herr, formerly supervisor of student teaching in business education at the Bridgewater High School, has been appointed as supervisor in the same field at Harrisonburg High School. Miss Herr holds the B.S. degree from Mary Washington College, and M.A. degree from New York University. Miss Herr

You Need It . . . It Needs You!

Those of you who are well acquainted here at Madison probably already realize what an important part cooperation has in our college life. But those of you who are new on the campus perhaps are not aware of the vital role cooperation plays.

First of all, you are a member of the student body, and that makes you a member of the Student Government Association. Before you have been here very long you will see this body in action and know that each of us has a responsibility there. Cooperation is essential! If we as students pull together, and speak up for the things we want, we're almost sure of obtaining them.

Not only is cooperation important as far as this major organization is concerned but there are five others—A.A., The Schoolma'am, YWCA, Honor Council, and The Breeze—which require us to continuously work together. Besides these major organizations, we have various other which you will soon discover and make choices as to which ones you will belong. No matter which ones you choose to be a member of, co-operation remains the prop of that organization. An organization cannot be strong without cooperation from all its members. Don't be a member of any organization unless you are willing to cooperate and get along with the other members. And don't be a member if you are not willing to give your best to the organization.

Besides organizations, cooperation is necessary in the dorm and in class. In fact, anything we have a part in here at Madison requires us to work together. Here's a place to learn to get along with others—shall we do our best? Let's!

Hi's The Spirit

Oh, yes! We're entering the 1951-52 session of Madison College. This session is bound to be a member of Madison's Hall of Fame. (Well, after all, 1952 is leap year—there should at least be more engagements and marriages.) 1951-52 brings us the senior class of 1955! This in itself will make us famous.

To you who enter our portals for the first time, "Hi!" and the best of everything to you. Madison will possess many characteristics each having new meaning to every person. And that, too, heightens Madison's fame.

Friendliness is our byword here as we hope each of you has noticed by now. Friendliness is the spirit of Madison.

Whether greeting an old friend or a new one remember the college's fate is in your hands; let's make it the best year we have ever known. It's possible you know—with your support!

September Song

" . . . And the days grow short when you reach September." These words were all too true. Seems as if the summer had hardly begun when I found myself kissing Mom and Dad goodbye and getting in the car accompanied by the usual admonitions to have a good time, behave myself, and write often.

It seems impossible that I'm at Madison, already. All those shopping trips, that last bang-up party with the old gang, and the last minute packing is over, in fact I'm now in a state of utter confusion caused by unpacking.

"Are I a Freshman, too?" No, a senior, but we're just as excited as any of you despite our mature years.

She's Yours

As usual Madison opens its social calendar with a series of informal activities which endeavors to bring old and new students closer together. To accomplish this Madison has the tradition of big and little sister relations. Each old student accepts the responsibility of entertaining and acquainting a new student with the ways of Madison.

In years past new students have received letters from their big sister some time during the summer but in several circumstances some little sister may not have heard from their big sister. Thus, we urge all big sisters to look up their little sister as soon as possible, so they may take them to the Monday night program, Tuesday's movie and Big Sister-Little Sister Party, Thursday night Freshmen's program, Saturday night movie and church on Sunday.

In the past this tradition has proved successful and should continue to do so for many years to come. Much cooperation from both big and little sisters our first week at school should lead to wonderful friendships in the coming year.

Early Birds Edit The Breeze

THE TIME: Last week.

THE PLACE: Madison's deserted campus.

THE PLOT: Peals of laughter ring from The Breeze room. Kak Crauncey has just set loose another "Lead balloon." Jean Saville, Homer Lynn Peters and Mary Hootman vainly try to find out what the joke was anyway. Not that they can't catch jokes, but after all, when they're told in a whisper—well. You see, Kak had lost her voice, and when she did speak out loud, it sounded even worse than the whisper. Why, she's got everyone else whispering too. Mr. Ralston, who was running the switchboard has just finished talking to her, and answered another call in a barely audible whisper "Madison College."

Then the mosquitoes! All night long the four waged a losing battle against "dive bombers." (If you don't believe it was a losing battle, ask Homer Lynn or Mary to show you the blood spots on the walls of their room, where they sought their revenge.) What with sitting up half the night, and swatting mosquitoes the other half, everybody was sleepy the next morning. Nevertheless we had to go to work. That was the day! To begin with, we cooked our own breakfast. We never got beyond bacon, eggs and coffee; but that was good. Who minds a little burnt toast once in a while, (Not more often than every morning) or tea leaves in their tea because there wasn't any strainer?

While Kak and Mary stayed on campus to get the news, Homer and Jean trotted downtown to get ads. As a result of their experience, they advise all of you not to go out to Collicello Avenue on foot. It may take you the better part of the day! After such a trip, you can easily see why one of them (she won't let me mention names, but it wasn't Jean) made a beautiful landing on her hands and knees in a downtown business establishment dealing in fragile furniture. Right over a bench too, I understand.

At night we went to the movies. Not once, Not twice, but every night! Nothing like coming back after ten thirty. Then there's the night Miss doah, with her back turned because she thought we Walker let one of the girls with us into Shenan-had DATES!!

We ate dinner downtown most of the time, but one night we decided to cook for ourselves. We got real brave and invited Mrs. Stevens to eat with us, and she was the life of the party. Un-huh, we DID have burned bread again.

Mrs. Garber surely was good to us. She drove us to Staunton. We went to the printer's office to work some more, and get thoroughly smeared with printer's ink. (As if we didn't have enough in our veins already.)

Wednesday night other students started coming back, and were we glad. We weren't exactly scared all by our lonesomes, not until people started ringing our doorbell at midnight looking for a place to sleep!

Well, the week's over now. We won't have a chance to laugh so much until this time next year. All that's left now is a trip to Dr. and Mrs. Smith's for dinner. Something to look forward to. Ah, food!

Our College Dean

DR. WALTER J. GIFFORD

Whether you are an old or a new student you are very welcome to this 1951-1952 session of Madison College! We who have been making preparations for your coming are particularly thrilled when the opening days come around in mid-September. The anticipation of meeting old friends and potential new ones seems to be keener each year.

If you have not already become aware of the fact by former experiences, may I say that Madison is far more than a group of buildings, and a collection of several hundred courses arranged in neat curricular patterns. We like to think that Madison is a wholesome, democratic society including thousands of former students and faculty members, our present family group, and many others to follow. Madison is an opportunity and a spirit that is difficult to define but that grips our lives in the ongoing day-by-day activities.

But even as we welcome you here at the college, we dare not forget the young men on the battlefields of Korea, and in the camps preparing them for those battlefields, who are endangering their lives so that we may be free to study and to learn. Many of them crave this same privilege. We must also not forget that there are other thousands of young men and women who because of circumstances, financial and otherwise, are deprived of a college education. This should cause you to value highly the wealth of opportunities which you and other youth in other colleges have as you trek back to college, or enter college anew this fall.

In this critical and dangerous time our goal of performance and learning should be representative of our best effort. We learn responsibility by being responsible. We learn to think by thinking. We learn to meet the character responsibilities of our day by practicing, as ex-President Hoover has said, "the old virtues that made this country." We prepare for the good life beyond college days by living the good life here and now. The classroom, the dormitory, the campus, and the community form the arena of vital living for you. Let's make them throb with wholesome activities, both curricula and co-curricular!

You are frequently told that other generations have failed in one way or another, or America would sometime win a peace as well as a war. My plea is that you and your generation may not "muff the ball." My faith is strong that your generation will do better than mine!

Sincerely yours,
Walter J. Gifford
Dean of the College

Notice

All transfers will meet with the Dean of Women at Alumnae Hall reception room on Wednesday, September 19, 1:15 P. M.

On The Run

With Kak

Back in the grind again—'tis grand to be here (hmm—do all seniors lose their minds—and so early in the year?). Seriously it is good to be back, bringing you tips, quips and news from Bluestone Hill.

Unfortunately our foreign student will not be with us until a little later in the year, nevertheless The Breeze will bring you all the details of her coming in a future article.

The Breeze is anxious to bring you up to date on all engagements and marriages but we will need your support for our new Ringed and Pinned (courtesy of Mary Hootman) column. Please drop us a note or contact one of the reporters so that we might miss as few of these items as possible.

Have ya seen Mr. Ralston's new "pride and joy"? It's the air mail special delivery box, of course.

Dr. Glenn Curtiss Smith, faculty adviser to The Breeze, spent the last two weeks of August on active duty in the Naval Reserve. He attended aviation ordinance seminar held at NAS Willow Grove, Pennsylvania.

A note to all of you Big Sisters: Since so many of your Lil' sis' have made plans to eat here in the D halls Sunday night, how's about holding off that dinner invitation you may have planned. Make it another night when there's less to do!

Freshman Dean

A very sincere welcome to all of you freshmen who are now gathered within the gates! Your early arrival at Madison means that by the time the "old girls" get here, you will feel somewhat at ease in your new surroundings. I know that you appreciate more than you can tell the help given you by the "old girls" representing Honor Council, Student Government, Y M C A organizations, and the Senior Counselors which were "hand-picked" just for you. These students together with the administrative officers will see to it that you are not pushed off the academic dock without benefit of preliminary swimming lessons. So, take it easy! Don't try to learn everything about college at once. Remember thousands of others survived the ordeal. I wager that by the end of the week you'll be in there swimming with the best of them and that you will have acquired the crawl stroke and a pledge button.

The primary function of the Office of the Dean of Freshmen is to be of every possible assistance to Madison freshmen. We, the Assistant Dean of Freshmen, Mrs. Katye Wray Miller, and I, shall be very glad to talk with you whenever our suggestions or advice may be helpful to you. We hope, too, that you will bring your parents by the office, as we share a most important interest and responsibility—namely, YOU!

Dorothy S. Garber
Dean of Freshmen

SGA President

Dear New Students,

A great big "welcome" to each of you! We are happy that you have chosen our Alma Mater for yours and that the time has come for you to become one of us.

It is a pleasure to think of the time ahead and the many activities in work and play, the new friendships, and wonderful memories our days on this campus offer us. We are looking forward anxiously to sharing these experiences with you.

It is our hope that you will enjoy the privileges membership in our Student Government Association affords you and that you will willingly accept the obligations of student government. It is our desire, too, that you will enter wholeheartedly into the program of activities and take full advantage of the opportunities which you have.

May your college career at Madison be truly successful and happy and if there is anything we old students can do to help make it so, don't hesitate to call on us.

And now, a great big "hello" and "welcome back" to all of you who have returned!

Sincerely yours,
Betty Hiner

was the former head of the business education department at Petersburg High School.

Miss Dorothy Rowe, B.S. at Madison College, has been appointed as Institutional Dietitian at Madison. Miss Rowe completed her American Dietetics Association Internship at Ohio State University, and expects to receive her M.S. degree next summer.

Miss Eleanor Frances Matthews of Princeville, Illinois has been appointed as assistant librarian. She holds the A. B. degree from Knox College, Galesburg, Illinois and the B.S. and M.S. in library science from the University of Illinois. She has held positions as assistant librarian at the University of Illinois and at Western Illinois State Teachers College, where she has been employed since September, 1947. She reported for duty at Madison for the 1951 summer session and will continue as a member of the staff during the regular session.

New Position Created

Miss Eddie Williams, a teacher in the Main Street School, Harrisonburg and acting principal during the past session, has been appointed as instructor and supervisor of student teaching in the third grade. This new position was created due to increased enrollment in the past few years.

Miss Teresa Shelton of Madison, N. C. has been appointed as assistant professor and supervisor of physical and health education at the Harrisonburg High School. She holds her B.S. degree from the Women's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and her M.A. degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She has had experience in the public schools of North Carolina and was a member of the faculty of the University of Maine from 1947 through 1950.

Co-ordinator

Superintendent Wilbur A. Pence of the Rockingham County Schools has been appointed as co-ordinator of the student teaching program in the Rockingham County Schools, which corresponds to a similar position held for a number of years by the Superintendent of Schools of Harrisonburg for the student teaching program in the City Schools.

Prof. of Education

Dr. Raymond J. Poindexter, associate professor of education, has been appointed professor of education. Dr. Poindexter has accepted added responsibilities as director of student teaching in elementary and junior high school work at Pleasant Hill school and of high school work at Montevideo High School, in addition to his duties as director of elementary education for Madison College in the Harrisonburg City Schools.

Associate Professors

President Miller announces today that three members of the faculty now classified as assistant professors are being promoted to associate professors. They are: Dr. Raymond C. Dingleline, Ph.D. of the history and social science department; Mr. Muri Shawver, M.Ed. of the biology department, and Miss Mary Margaret Brady, M.A. of the business education department. Dr. C. H. Huffman, professor of English, has been appointed as acting department head during the absence of Dr. Leland Schubert.

489 Matriculate As College Opens

The class of '55 matriculated to Madison with 489 members, representing all sections of Virginia and several other states. Complete data is not available on the number of counties or states from which the freshmen come.

Forty-three transfer students will also come to Madison this year. Averette, Emory and Henry, Fairfax Hall, Marion, Mary Washington, Radford, Roanoke, Shenandoah, University of Virginia, Virginia Intermont, VPI extension in Norfolk, and William and Mary are a few of the Virginia schools represented.

Students will also transfer from Beckley College in West Virginia, St. Mary's Seminary in Maryland, Texas Western, University of Connecticut, Western Maryland, and Wilson Teacher's College in Washington, D. C.

Curriculum I attracted the largest number of transfers. The next most popular major was liberal arts.

Six transfer students are boys, three of them from Shenandoah College.

Men's S G A Welcomes You

As president of the Men's Student Organization, it gives me great pleasure to have this opportunity to welcome to Madison both new and returning students. You upperclassmen know what a fine place Madison is, so it is to the freshmen and transfers that I wish to address my message. Because the men will find themselves such a minority group, it is they to whom I wish to address in particular.

You freshmen are beginning a phase in your lives like no other you will ever know; but like so many things, it will be, and will mean to you, just what you choose to make it. You can while away the four years

Dean Miller

Some of you are here for the first time, others are returning to familiar scenes. To every student I extend a most cordial welcome. I am glad to see you on the campus and shall always be ready to help you make your college days both pleasant and meaningful.

You, like many other young people in our county, are highly privileged in being able to attend college. Now is the time for you to educate yourself to serve a world which desperately needs you. Today has eternal meaning. Everything in life is a challenging interest. Your curiosity can be developed by opening your eyes and hearts and really studying.

My very best wishes to you for a good year.

Miss Armentrout Is August Bride

Miss Mary Armentrout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Armentrout of McGaheysville and professor of history at Madison College, became the bride of Francis Jackson, Saturday, August 11, at 7:30 o'clock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of navy sheer with white accessories. Misses Martha and Dorothy Smith, nieces of the bride, were attendants. William Frank, of Harrisonburg, served as best man. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Joseph Lee Kinzie, of Lake Wales, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will make their home in Montevideo, where Mr. Jackson is Instructor of agriculture. Mrs. Jackson will remain on the faculty at Madison.

Richard Hayton Joins Faculty

Mr. Richard Hayton, formerly assistant superintendent of public instruction for the state, has been named coordinator of the In-service teacher education program which is being inaugurated at Madison this year.

Five goals have been set up for this department in 1951-52. County superintendents and the graduates themselves will supply the information, which will list failures and successes of M. C. graduates. This will assist in improving the program of teacher education. Special attention will be given to ways of better adapting the summer school program to the needs of the teachers and to secure information for the school and community class.

To Visit '51 Grads

Mr. Hayton will visit '51 graduates in thirty-one counties and fifteen cities in Virginia during the first semester to receive first-hand information as to their success and to assist local school authorities in adjustment of Madison graduates. Close contact will also be maintained with the class of '50.

Other Services

A further service of the department will be to serve local schools and school divisions through conferences, workshops and public meetings.

Mr. Hayton received his B. S. and M.S. in education from the University of Virginia. He began his career teaching in a one room school, and was for twenty-one years superintendent of schools in Prince William county, before serving with the State Board of Education.

As They Come!

by Mary Hootman

"Cars going over all day long"
Said the road in a tired voice.
"Ah yes," said the steps to Alumnae
"I, too, feel the weight of their choice."
"All day they go up to get their room
And I can feel them tremble;
But after they see Dot Garber, you know
They're ever so much more nimble."

"Then," chimed in Jackson, "They come over here;
Two boys take up their trunks
Mom, pop and daughter make trip
after trip
To take in the rest of the junk.
"The Business Office! Where can it be?

Even with a map I can't find it.
On the third try they do, and dad pays the bill
Then back to the room, and they sit.

Mom clears her throat, and says
"Well, my dear,
I guess that we must be going'
I hear them then", old Jackson said
All alone and crying."
Over and over the same thing happens
To the clatter of different feet
Until another girl stands in the room
And two new roommates meet.

Classes beginning, big sisters to meet
A friendly "Hi" on the walk
More and more they're learning the spirit

Of Madison is more than just talk.
"A week has passed," said Ashby Hall
"They joke and laugh and joke some more

I do believe they can think up pranks
Never thought up before!"

"Ah, yes," smiled Wilson with a dignified nod
"They're really a part of us all
They caught the spirit in a wonderful way
That class is right on the ball!"

Alls Caps Scholarship To Madison

Valadictorian of the class of '51 at Andrew Lewis High School, Frances Alls accepts a scholarship here.

A native of Catawba, Frances was selected to receive the recently established Colonel L. S. Walker Scholarship for Madison College.

The endowed scholarship is the first in the history of the college and was made possible by Colonel Walker, a former resident of the Shenandoah Valley. Now a New York insurance executive, Colonel Walker, became interested in Madison through his nephew John Jenkins, who came here and carried home good reports of our work here.

Establishing the $2,000 scholarship, Colonel Walker stated that, "My one purpose is to make available educational facilities to achieve educational advancement." The scholarship is to be awarded to a worthy individual on a four year basis. To receive the award of $500 a year the individual must have a high scholastic standing in his high school graduating class, achieve satisfactory scores on national scholastic aptitude tests; possess qualities which exemplify high character and moral stamina. Moreover the recipient must establish that he would not be able to attend college without financial aid and be a resident of the southeastern states.

Frances, having met these requirements, will be an elementary education major. Having served as Attorney General at Girl's State this summer, she is interested in public speaking. In this field she won the Public Speaking contest sponsored by the Salem Lodge No. 44, Knight Pythias and represented Virginia last year in a contest in Lexington, Kentucky. She is also a member of the Beta Club.

Alternate for the scholarship, Joan Thompson, will also enter Madison this year. A graduate of Natural Bridge High School, she received the $300 Frances Sale Scholarship.

Joan, who will major in Home Economics, was a national officer in the F.H.A. and attended the national convention in Kansas City, Missouri in 1950.

Although a freshman, Joan is familiar with the campus, as she attended summer school this past year.

Another Miller!

Mrs. S. Guy Miller, formerly Katy Wray Brown, Class '33, is now assistant to Mrs. Garber, Dean of Freshmen Women. Mrs. Miller is well known at Madison, having been President of Student Government 1932-33, a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Scribblers, Cotillion Club, Debate Club, Art Club, and a member of the SCHOOLMA'AM Staff. Mrs. Miller, her husband, and her ten year old daughter, Martha Ann, moved to Harrisonburg from Roseland, Virginia and are now living at 610 South Main Street. Mrs. Miller will be remembered as Katy Wray Brown who worked in the office of Mrs. Annie Bailey Cook, former Dean of Women, for five years.

fundamentals of arithmetic.

"Now, listen," she said rather desperately, "in order to subtract, things have to be of the same denomination. This is what I mean: You couldn't take three apples from four bananas, or six plums from eight peaches. It must be three apples from four apples, and six plums from eight plums, and so on. Do you understand now?"

The majority of children seemed to grasp the idea. One chubby-faced youngster very near the bottom of the class, however, raised a timid hand.

"Please, teacher," he said, rather timidly, "you can take three quarts of milk from two cows."

Honor Council

How wonderful it's going to be seeing the familiar faces and hearing the familiar voices of all you old timers who are returning to Madison, and yet, it's going to be just as exciting meeting our new freshmen. For them, I'd like to add my word of welcome to the many others they're receiving. As always, it's mighty swell to be greeting a new class, but then too, there goes with it a certain sadness because for those of us who are seniors, this is the last class we'll have the opportunity of welcoming to our dear ole Alma Mater.

More and more each day we can see the importance of education in regard to happy, everyday living, and for this very reason the freshmen, as well as the upperclassmen, have before them one of the greatest of all privileges—a college education. With four years in college go all the wonderful experiences of making new and lasting friends and sharing with them many good times. Then too, you newcomers will have a responsibility all your own—carrying on the spirit and traditions of Madison.

Best of luck, freshmen, and for a grand year, let's all have fun and learn a lot.

Handbook Says Students Receive Assembly Cuts

Several changes have been announced in the regulations for the 1951-52 session through the newly published handbook.

Each student will be allowed two cuts from Wednesday and three cuts from Monday assemblies. No cuts will be allowed from convocations. Also a new regulation is that men and women will be seated together by classes, instead of having a separate section for men students as we have in the past. Overcutting in assembly will be subject to Student Government action.

Lyceum

Women students may secure special escort tickets for Saturday night movies. Men students are not eligible for guest tickets.

When a student plans to spend the night in another dorm on Friday or Saturday night, she may sign out from 9 to 10 P.M. or during the afternoon. The charges for overnight guests is now $1.00 a night. Sunday dinners and special meals are $1.25, other dinners are $1.00, breakfast is 50 cents, lunches are 75 cents, and

- member in charge and Class Card for course added will be given to you.
- Fill in new Class Card.
- Exit at North Door—Hand in new Class Card.

Third To Registrar's Office, Wilson Hall

The Registrar will take

- Your Registration Card, four sections of your Record Card, the Program Card signed by your Adviser, and Adjustment Card (see 2a above).

Fourth To Treasurer's Office, Wilson Hall

The Treasurer will take Treasurer's Section of Record Card. (Veterans will present certificate of eligibility.)

NOTE: If after registration, it is found necessary to make a change in your program (adding a class, dropping a class, changing from one section to another), this change must be approved by your Curriculum Chairman or the Dean, recorded on an Adjustment Card, and the card taken by the student to the Registrar's Office. No schedule changes will be made after October 4.

Helen M. Frank, Registrar

Notice

All students in college whether registered or not are invited to use the students bank in the treasurer's office upon arriving at the college.

The Business Office will be open Sunday, September 16, from 2-5 p.m., for students or parents wishing to use the bank, pay tuition, etc.

Win Vogue Contest; Six Months In Paris

If you want the opportunity to try for a junior editor's job on Vogue, or the introduction to a career in publishing, be sure to enter Vogue's 17th Prix de Paris. If you would like an editorial job in New York City just as soon as you graduate—and then six months working in Paris—don't pass up the Prix!

The Prix is Vogue's annual career contest open to seniors working toward the Bachelor's degree in colleges and universities throughout the United States. Through the Prix, Vogue discovers new talent and recruits its editorial trainees. The contest not only offers you an opportunity to win a job, or an introduction to the field of your choice, but also through working on the quizzes, you get a bird's-eye view of the editorial, merchandising, and fashion side of the publishing business.

The Prix consists of four quizzes and a thesis, which are based on actual editorial problems. Vogue is the textbook of the contest. The quiz questions and the material upon which they are based appear in the August 15, September 15, October 15, and November 15 issues of Vogue. Those who satisfactorily answer the series of four quizzes will be eligible to write a paper on one of the thesis topics which appear in the February 1 issue of Vogue.

Judging by a Board of Editors from The Conde Nast Publications, Inc., whose decision is final. All material submitted becomes the property of The Conde Nast Publications Inc.

Entries are judged on writing ability, grasp of subject matter, general intelligence, originality, and demonstration of special talents.

The prize for the first place winner is a year's job on Vogue. You will work for six months or more in the New York office and six months in the Paris office. The timing of the six months' period in Paris will be at the discretion of The Conde Nast Publications Inc. In the event that world conditions do not permit your going to Europe, the full year's term will be in New York City. Transportation expenses to Paris and back, in addition to salary, will be paid by The Conde Nast Publications Inc.

The prize for the second place winner is a six months' job on Vogue in the New York office.

The prize for each of the ten Honorable Mention winners is $25—and top consideration for jobs on Vogue, House & Garden, Glamour, and The Vogue Pattern Book.

Six Madison Profs Aid Policy Planning Group

Six Madison faculty members aided in the shaping of teacher education policies at a conference on curricula in Roanoke this summer.

Attending the meeting were President G. Tyler Miller, Dean Walter J. Gifford, Dr. Leland Schubert, head of the English department, Dr. Raymond Poindexter, head of the elementary education department, Dean of the Summer Session, Percy H. Warren and coordinator Richard Hayton.

Dr. Earl Armstrong, specialist in teacher education from the United States Department of Education, was consultant to the group. Also actively participating in the meetings was Dr. T. N. Stinett who is in charge of the standards of the National Education Association. Dr. Stinett noted that many colleges were beginning to organize their curricula so that subjects might be more correlated and provide broader educational experiences.

Dr. Stinett further hinted that soon a five year teacher education program would evolve from the present four year one.

Steps are now being taken to organize the teaching profession as the medical profession has been in the past fifty years, so that the quality of teaching may be raised.

A. A. President

Dear Students,

On behalf of the Athletic Association, I would like to welcome you to Madison College and to an organization of which you are now a member—namely the A. A. (that's what we call it).

I hope you find the tennis courts early. For some of you, they will be welcomed, after hours of standing in line. I remember how tiresome that was.

Those of you who don't play tennis may check out softball, badminton, table tennis and archery equipment at the Physical Education office in Reed Hall.

On Wednesday evening from 4:30 to 7:00 P. M. we will have a picnic back campus for all freshmen.

On Saturday, September 22 at 2:00 P. M. to 3:00 P. M. some students from the college will play an exhibition hockey game on the hockey field. Perhaps this will be the first time you've seen hockey. Well, stick around, because intramural hockey is quite a sport on Madison campus and you, too, can play. It's fun!

All through the year you'll be seeing your A. A. at work. It sponsors the intramural program in sports. Also we have extramural (varsity, as you probably call them) teams in hockey and basketball. In the spring our big event is May Day. All of these things are for you.

Read the A. A. Handbook you received and let A. A. work for your enjoyment.

See ya "back campus" Wednesday and on the hockey field Saturday.

Louise Kindig

NOTICE

If you play a musical instrument and would like to join the college band or orchestra, see Mr. Anderson sometime this week so you may receive credit for this.

From YWCA

Welcome Students!

In behalf of the Y W C A on our campus, may I extend to the new students a most hearty welcome to your new home. Perhaps that word "home" hardly seems to fit just now; but, believe me, in no time at all, you'll find yourself feeling that every friendly "hi" and "hey" which you hear comes from someone you've known all your life.

To the old students, may I just say, "welcome home." Perhaps the newness has worn off, but that makes it all the more like home.

Now that we've all had our long awaited vacations, I'm sure that we're ready to settle down to some hard work and also some good times so that this year of 1951-52 at Madison will be one which will stand out as a special year in our lives.

There are endless opportunities which will be opened before us as we live, work, and play together through the year; whether or not we take advantage of those opportunities is up to each one of us.

As you fill your coming days with various activities, will you remember that everything which the Y W C A sponsors on our campus is for you: every Friday chapel, Sunday vesper, dorm devotion, Religious Emphasis Week, Singpiration, Birthday Party, and drive or conference and many other things—all are for the purpose of making our lives better and richer.

As we grow this year in knowledge, in friendship, in body, and in spirit, may we truly live up to the thoughts and aspirations expressed in a song which we all love, our Alma Mater.

Best Wishes and God Bless You,
Marilyn Miller

At The Movies

Coming attraction at the Virginia this week will include "Jim Thorpe—All American" and "The Big Carnival".

Another great film biography, "Jim Thorpe—All American" will play Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The plot contains love, sports, and interests of an American Indian who became one of the most widely acclaimed heroes of his day. Burt Lancaster, in the film role, is supported by Phyllis Thaxter, the girl he loved. The great All American is living today and makes the film of greater interest to all.

The attraction for Thursday and Friday "The Big Carnival" presents Kirk Douglas as a three-dimensional heel and Jan Sterling as a sizzling characterization as a blonde fire hazard.

The plot is centered about a reporter's fight to get back in big-time reporting after being black-balled. Douglas stops at nothing to gain his career but gambles with others' lives. Both films should prove exciting and full of drama.

For Breeze Staff!

All Breeze staff members are requested to report to The Breeze room Tuesday, September 18 at 2 p. m. with their assignments. The assignments will be posted Saturday, September 15.

From The Breeze Editor

Hello everyone,

It's good to see and have all of you on campus again! (The Breeze staff has been here a week and are we ever glad to see the campus come alive.)

To you new students who are joining our Madison throng, The Breeze extends heartiest of greetings and wishes you the happiest year ever! Madison.

Your personality can help to further mold that of this college. Madison is tops as you are surely learning; Give of your fullest and your pleasure will be unlimited here.

The Breeze is a newspaper for you . . . and it is a paper supported by your aid and enthusiasm! For those of you who have had journalistic experience or anyone having a desire to work with our staff, there are many opportunities for activity. There are positions open in every phase of newspaper work for members of all four classes. So give us a try. Newspaper work is gratifying, as any staff member will testify!

Suggestions are always welcome and we strongly urge you to voice your opinions freely both to the staff and to the student body through letters to (Continued on Page 8)

From the Y. M.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Madison College welcomes to our campus all the men students, both old and new. We hope that you will enjoy a happy and prosperous stay here, and that your new associations will be something that you can cherish for years to come.

In harmony with the atmosphere traditionally fostered here at Madison, the YMCA is striving to promote a high degree of friendship and geniality among the students. To do this, our members are hoping to meet each of you personally during your first few day's stay here. We hope to assist you in finding your way about campus, in your registration, in meeting new friends, and in helping you locate rooming and boarding facilities.

Then, too, the YMCA is planning a "coke" party for all the men on Wednesday night, September 26. You will be reminded of this later but we do want you to keep it in mind now so you will have the evening free!

We do welcome all of you fellows, and we hope you will feel free to call on us to help you in any manner we can while you are here.

Dick Boyer,
President YMCA

SUNDAY, ALUMNAE HALL!

To parents of students, refreshments will be served from 3 to 5 p. m. Sunday in Alumnae reception room.

'Tommy' Curtis, 'Star' Student

by Dorothy Coryell, Berie Hobbs and Margaret Parrett, Summer School Students

It seems that we had an amateur dramatic production this summer after all. It all happened when a new technique for college instruction was demonstrated in Dr. Jay Curtis' vocabulary class.

A student, Mrs. Margaret S. Parrett, who was assigned the problem of how she would present vocabulary in the 2nd grade, made out flash cards of words opposite in meaning. She handed out one set of words to her classmates who were masquerading as 2nd graders and kept the other set herself. Noting that the professor was sitting in a corner, she said: "Tommy, wouldn't you like to go to your seat now and help us with this exercise? You've been in the corner long enough."

Tommy took his place in the class and the teacher gave him a card. She then went to the board and printed the word "opposites" in big, bold letters.

"This is a long word, isn't it? Let's all say it together." The childish trebles complied.

"When you go home tonight, you can tell your mammas and daddies what a long word you've learned."

Then she printed the word "girl" on the board.

"Susie, would you come up and stand by me?"

The eager 2nd grader came forward.

"Jimmy, you come and stand by Susie. Now, children, Susie is a girl. What is Jimmy?"

"A boy," chorused the children.

"Now, those words 'boy' and 'girl' are opposites. I gave some of you a card with a word on it and I have some cards here that I'm

Schubert Conducts Study Of Schools During Absence

Dr. Leland Schubert, head of the English department here, has been granted leave-of-absence to conduct a study of status of U. S. colleges in relation to Virginia schools. The Virginia State Board of Education is sponsoring the study.

Thirty colleges "from New Hampshire to California to Florida to Minnesota" will be studied. About twenty of these are state teachers colleges, and the remaining ten are State Universities and liberal arts colleges.

Looking Over Programs

Dr. Schubert will spend a week at each college, looking over the whole program of the school, the facilities, the percentage of state aid, and the tuition costs. He will attempt to find the type of students who attend these colleges, where they come from, and the requirements.

When he is not visiting schools, Dr. Schubert will visit principals and superintendents in the schools in which graduates of the colleges are employed, and state departments of education to ascertain the standing of the colleges to be studied in relation to other schools in their respective states.

Given Full Approval

The National Commission on Teacher Education has given its full approval of the undertaking.

Upon his return, Dr. Schubert expects to write a series of articles or possibly a book on the results of his study.

German Educator Chooses Madison

Madison was chosen to play host to one of the nine German Educators who are coming over to study democratic ways of teaching.

Dr. Willi Gellert will arrive at Madison September 14. Though he speaks English quite well, and understands it if one doesn't speak too fast, Dr. Gellert is still a stranger in America, so a special program has been arranged to make him feel at home. It has been recommended that he be assigned a counselor to help him find his place on campus, on the same principle on which the big and little sister program works.

Business education is Dr. Gellert's field. He will work with this department during his stay at Madison. He is also interested in history and social science.

Dr. Gellert hails from the State of Braden, and teaches business in the vocational school at Weinheim Germany. He calls Heidelberg his Alma Mater.

He was also one of the leaders in the workshop in Esslingen, Dr. Gellert learned something about American educational practices, but desires to see them in actual practice in the states.

Dr. Gellert will live in town, while his family, a girl twelve and a boy seventeen, remain in Germany.

Several Virginia schools were considered as host to one of the educators, among them U. Va. and V. P. I., but Madison was chosen to represent the state because of the strong business department here.

"One bar of dog soap and a box of flea powder."

Freshmen! Here's Your Big Sis! Schoolma'am

As is the tradition, the YWCA has assigned the freshmen "big sisters." This plan, for many years, has been a successful one helping to form a binding friendship between upperclassmen, freshmen, and transfer students.

The list which follows contains the name of the new girl placed before that of her "big sister." This list is as complete as possible, however, if any new student finds that she has not a "big sister," contact the "Y" as soon as possible. Any upperclassmen who does not have a "little sister" and who desires one may also contact the "Y".

Dear Freshmen,

As editor of the 1952 Schoolma'am I want to welcome each and every one of you to Madison College. I know that Madison will live up to all your college expectations, and before you know it you will become such an integral part of life here at Madison that you will almost hate to leave when spring comes.

There is so much to do—so much to learn, and more fun to be had than you ever imagined.

I sincerely hope that your four years at Madison will be as pleasant and meaningful as mine have been and that every new day will be a successful one for you.

With best wishes,
Barbara Striker

RULES (Continued from Page 4)
the Sunday night supper bags are 15 cents.

Lights

Lights in upperclassmen dorms must be out by 11:30; with an additional hour for study if the student signs up. Rules for lights in freshmen dorms and on Saturday nights are the same as they were last year.

The Business Office will be open on Sunday afternoons from 2 to 5 P. M. for the convenience of the students.

Another change in regulations is that dancing will be allowed in town, in approved places.

A complete explanation of these and all other rules of Madison may be found in your handbook.

Play Or Cheer For Hockey's Here

Hockey season is here again! Come on out and join the fun—participating or cheering for your favorite team. Plans are being made for a full schedule this year.

First, an exhibition game will be held on Saturday, September 22 at 2 o'clock. This game is for the benefit of the new students, and officially opens the season.

For this game, teams will be chosen from the upperclassmen who played hockey last year. Members of the physical education staff will furnish the necessary coaching and the umpiring.

Extramural

The extramural team will be active all season. October 13 brings the first intercollegiate competitive games, one with Bridgewater and one with the Shenandoah Valley Club.

Following this will be two games with Sweetbrier on October 17 and a game with Westhampton on October 27.

State Tournament

The state hockey tournament will take place on November 2 and 3, and Madison will play two games in this.

On November 5, the players will turn spectators as they watch a Scotch team in action against our American players in Richmond.

Tournament time rolls around again on November 17, when the Southeastern tournament is held. If any of our extramural team is lucky enough to be chosen a member of the Virginia state teams, they will again journey to Richmond.

Clinic

Also, an umpiring clinic will be held

Madison Completes Successful Summer

Forty-three students received their Bachelor's degrees from Madison College at the close of the summer session.

The total enrollment for the summer was approximately 600. Of these, twenty-one were mothers, and there were twenty-eight children on campus. Thirty-one percent of the students in summer school also attended the regular session.

The enrollment included students in the workshops for Health Education, High School Guidance, Guidance in the elementary school, Science, and music.

Graduate work in Education was offered for the first time at Madison as an extension service of the University of Virginia. Dr. Walter Gifford, Dr. Raymond Poindexter, and Miss Katherine Anthony were professors for the courses.

placed the word "go" beside "stop". The lesson proceeded smoothly until the word "woman" was placed on the ledge. It so happened that Dr. "Tommy" Curtis held the word "man" in his hand but seemed unaware of this (or indeed anything else.) The little girl sitting next to Tommy kept nudging him.

"You have it! That's you! Get up! Go on up!"

Tommy shuffled up the aisle with evident lack of comprehension.

"Tommy, didn't you know your word?"

Tommy's relaxed jaw relaxed a bit more.

"She told me," he said pointing back to his neighbor.

"Well, let me help you with it. Can you show me a two letter word in this word (pointing to "man") that you had in your reading yesterday?"

Tommy's mouth fell completely open.

here on September 29, to aid our students, in securing official rating as Hockey umpires.

Though only a few can make the extra-mural teams, opportunity to participate in hockey games is offered to everyone through the intramural teams.

These teams, one from each dorm, compete for the campus Hockey Championship. Game time is 4:30, Monday, Wednesday and Friday on the hockey field.

Anyone can sign up on posters which will be placed in each dorm.

If you don't know what it's all about, come out Saturday to the exhibition game and watch the fun!

She placed the word "stop" on the ledge and the children read it together.

"Will the child who has the word opposite to "stop" come up and put it beside my word?"

A child immediately stepped up and

"Huh-uh," he said promptly.

"Maybe Susie can come up and help you. Susie, find the little word in "man" and frame it for Tommy."

Susie reluctantly came forward, keeping a cautious distance from Tommy. She gave the impression of not knowing what to expect next. She framed the word "an" and pronounced it.

"Now, Tommy," continued the teacher, "you say that word."

"A-y-an," said Tommy with the light of intelligence dawning in his eyes.

"I am going to sound the "m" for you, Tommy. Listen. "M-an." Now you say the whole word."

"M-m-m-ay-an!" said Tommy making a supreme effort.

"That's fine, Tommy. Let's not forget that," said the relieved teacher whereupon the happy little boy grinned and trotted back to his seat.

The audience of 2nd graders enjoyed this unrehearsed production so much that repercussions have been heard on the campus. Special praise was given the inspired performance of Dr. "Tommy" Curtis.

Counselors Aid Freshman

For the third year, freshmen at Madison College will have the aid of Senior Counselors to help them through their first days in college. Mrs. Dorothy S. Garber, Dean of Freshmen, inaugurated the plan.

Mrs. Garber selects seniors who have high standards of citizenship, as well as patience, tact, understanding, personal integrity, emotional stability, and mature judgment. The major responsibility of the Senior Counselors is to interpret the spirit and ideals of Madison to the freshmen and to assist them in every way to become well adjusted to college life.

The Senior Counselors' work is in addition to the work of the Y W C A and Student Government organization.

The Counselors selected for the Year 1951-52 are: Katherine Barrett, Franklin; Phyllis Binion, Clifton Forge; Anne Colonna, Cape Charles; Jean Douglas, Lovettsville; Nancy Fravel, Woodstock; Marion Marshall, Virginia Beach; Lucilare Miller, Paw Paw, W. Va., and Frances Moseley, Roanoke.

Mary V. Harris from Courtland; Joanne D. King, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Connie Roach, Richmond; Rosalyn Scarborough, Carson; Nancy Turley, Wytheville; Nancy Walker, Mitchellville, Md.; Lorraine Warren, Middleburg; Margaret Wilmoth, Chase City; Fae Wilson, Portsmouth; and Jean Roe, from Chatham.

Day Students! Look!

All day students will make arrangements for post office boxes with Mr. Rolston, the postmaster, during the registration period, September 17 to 19. The College must have the co-operation of the day students in this matter and will hold students responsible for the receipt of office college notices and communications. It is suggested that students go for their college mail at least twice a week.
